

BALTIMORE STREETCAR MUSEUM

Baltimore, Maryland

No. 7407, Pullman-Standard-built PCC, rests peacefully at the rear of the yard at Govanstown Loop on a cold winter day in 1960. Between 1939 and 1944, 247 cars of this type were built for Baltimore by Pullman. The last one operated on the Number 8 line November 3, 1963. No. 7407 is preserved, along with 9 other historic Baltimore cars, at the Baltimore Streetcar Museum.
